

Dear prospective students,

It is time you meet what will soon be your home too: the Common House Elliott!

Located in the monumental former post office in the Lange Noordstraat 48, Common House Elliott serves as a social center for students to come together. Be it for study sessions in the study lounge, for lunch in the Mensa lunchroom, or for a beer in the downstairs bar area – Elliott has you covered.

Elliott exists for UCR students as a joint communal project, so we aim to facilitate and support students' new initiatives and ideas. We can facilitate debates, theatre plays, art groups, conferences, game nights, and so on! We offer you the space to organize your events free of charge so all UCR students can develop themselves in social, academic, and creative settings. Elliott wants to stimulate students to share their thoughts, their experiences, and their opinions; to encourage banter, disputation and simple relaxation with friends. These intangible, non-graded aspects of your education will make the years spent at this university truly exceptional.

Elliott is unique in the sense that we are 100% student run. Our bartenders, baristas, sandwich makers, and board members are your fellow students! The Common House Elliott board assures that this is handled in the most effective way and has the ultimate responsibility to make all of this happen.

Are you interested in becoming a volunteer for any of these positions? Send an email to elliott@ucr.nl or approach us during the introduction period or semester. You can always recognise us by our purple sweaters. For more information you can have a look on our webpage!
